by Piccolino

LOWER GROUND. LATE BAR. CICCHETTI. MUSIC.

Aperitif culture at Piccolino

Our bartenders are evangelists of the 'aperitivo' hours. Both a time-honoured tradition and a romantic prelude to any meal, the classic 'aperitif' is revered at Piccolino and is as much about the cultural ritual as it is about the drink itself. We believe the most compelling reason to enjoy an aperitif is the simple notion of time - to willingly spend an extended period to participate in a social act that urges us to take our time in a relentlessly fast-paced world.

CRAFT BEER FROM 'BIRRA DEL BORGO'

Birra del Borgo have been producing artisan beers in Borgorose - a small village in the Reiti province, at the border of Lazio and Abruzzo region since 2005. Birra del Borgo operate Open Baladin within walking distance from Campo de' Fiori in Rome and La Birreria - a brewpub on the rooftop of Eataly in the heart of Manhattan.

MY ANTONIA (ABV 7.5%) 330ML £7.50

A strong Imperial Pilsner in conjunction with the American Dogfish Head Brewery. An intriguing beer extremely perfumed, where resinous and floral notes mix effortlessly. Honeyed notes from the Pilsner and Cara-Pils malts sync with the peppery Simcoe, Warrior and Saaz hops providing an elegant and lingering finish.

REALE EXTRA (ABV 6.2%) 330ML £6.50

This unusual amber India Pale Ale (IPA) is characterised by its production method - all of the hops are added during the last ten minutes of the boil. The result is an explosion of perfumes ranging from Citrus to pine resin and incense. ReAle Extra has a dry mouth feel with persistent tangerine notes on the finish.

CORTIGIANA (ABV 5.5%) 330ML £6.50

Citrus and floral hops wrestle with the malt's honeyed notes in a Golden Ale characterised by the spicy finish in BDB's most drinkable expression.

KETO REPORTER (ABV 5.2%) 330ML £6.50

BDB are very proud of their Porter. Kentucky tobacco leaves are added - the same ones used in producing the famous Tuscan cigars. The resultant brew is almost pitch black with roasted tobacco and nut on the nose. Roast remains in the mouth feel with a gentle sourness. The tobacco influence creates a peppery, almost hot finish.

APERITIF

With romantic stories of recipes perfected in secret in remote Italian villages and passed down through generations, the charm of Vermouth, Quinquina and Amari is undeniable. As awareness of aperitif and digestif culture grows outside of Italy and France, these no longer obscure and most interesting of elixirs, are being increasingly enjoyed prior to and following dinner, or continually as a defining ingredient in a sensational cocktail.

VERMOUTH

The most ubiquitous European aperitif from a base of wine is unquestionably Vermouth. Cocktail manuals of the 1930s and 1940s listed Italian Vermouth (usually sweeter in style) or French Vermouth (typically drier) in almost every mixed drink. We like to enjoy a glass of vermouth over ice or with a splash of soda to awaken the senses and stimulate the appetite.

QUINQUINA & AMERICANO

Quinquina and Americano are styles of aperitif wine that play an important role in aperitif culture and the recent resurgence of many forgotten cocktail recipes. Quinquina - also from a wine base is characterised by the use of cinchona bark as a key botanical in its production. Alternatively, Americano relies on gentian and wormwood as its bittering agents. Both are fortified with spirit and sweetened by sugar or mistelle.

AMARO

Italian bitters, known as Amari are not based on wine but are from concentrated spirit based infusions or distillations of herbs, roots, barks and spices. Italian Amari derives its bitterness from gentian, quinine, wormwood and bitter orange and is further balanced with aromatic botanicals like vanilla, clove, nutmeg and peppermint. Intensely flavoured Amari are usually served neat as a digestif.
